

2. WHAT to map ? Community proposals, community assets ... and much more in the long term!

JustMap is an ambitious collaborative project, some would say utopian. Therefore the idea is to divide objectives between short, mid and long terms to be able to initiate something.

short term : interactive mapping platform of community spaces under threat with links towards bubbling campaigns.

mid term : to produce a collaborative map through public workshops to highlight communities assets and projects, while connecting actors campaigning for a fairer London.

long term : to create a meta mapping platform to collect all kind of data produced by London communities and useful for a London community-led planning.
